WELCOME HOME TO FATHER O'CARROLL after his visit to Ireland for his brother's Ordination. As usual his plane ride was: an adventurous experience as an attempted Hijacker thought the best route was via Algeria, Peking and Hanoi and backed his request to the TWA Captain with a threat to blow up the plane.

FR. BELL HAS LEFT FOR KODIAK to replace another wandering Celt Fr. O'Donoghue for the next few weeks. Sincerest thanks to him for the excellent way he served St. Michaels during the past few weeks. We are sorry to lose him for these few weeks but hope to have him back again with us.

The weather was so good in Ireland the last week that Fr. O'Carroll over heard the following remark "you know, O'Sullivan the weather is so dry that the trees are pulling themselves up by the roots and chasing dogs"!!!

RELIGIOUS and political feelings are running high right now in Northern Ireland. There is a story that in Portadown a very Protestant town, a visitor asked a workman where the Church was, "The Presbyterian meeting house is down yon street", "No, no, I don't mean that ..." "Och, ye'll mean the Church of Ireland place, then. Go on down..." "Actually I wanted to know where the Roman Catholics go." "To hell," said the good workman with fervour. "Where else?"

LET THERE BE PEACE IN THE VALLEY.
