PARISH PERSPECTIVE

Rev. Fred T. Bugarin - Pastor

By the time you read this column, you will probably have heard the good news: WE ARE GOING TO BREAK GROUND! For everyone in the parish, this is an occasion for joy and thanksgiving. Joy, because now we can look forward to seeing the future "St. Jude Center" go up. It is not a beginning, by any means; rather, it is merely a continuation of something that was started several years ago when our parish was first dreamt of by a tiny but faithful band of Catholics all praying to their patron saint of the impossible, St. Jude. It is indeed a joy to see another dream come true, another prayer answered. It is an occasion of much thanksgiving for this is a sign of God's continuing love and providence.

Last week, we read in the gospel "I will ask the Father, and He will send you a Paraclete, the Spirit of truth, to be with you always." The Lord continues to send his Spirit to unite us and move us at Sacred Heart Parish. Beautiful things continue to happen in our small but growing community. As a parish, we have covered a significant distance, but only because we have been willing enough to work together, and open enough to be transformed into a Church, into a parish community by the Holy Spirit.

Our parish is successful only to the extent that we are willing to continue to cooperate with one another and be open to the Holy Spirit. Already, we see this happening in our parish. More and more people are getting involved, and taking on various responsibilities, and assuming leadership roles. The beauty of all this is that as we continue to work together, the Holy Spirit somehow is making us minister to our own needs. This is how we are ultimately made into a Church-community - by reaching out to each other and by ministering to each other's needs.

May the Spirit of Truth continue to be in our lives and the life of our community here at Sacred Heart Parish.

MEETING WITH ARCHBISHOP HURLEY: Last Wednesday representatives of the Building and Finance Committees met with Archbishop Hurley at which time he approved our building plans as well as our financial plans. He also told us the good news that additional funds had been received from the Leamy Estate; these funds are to be used in the building of the CCD center.

JOB SUPERVISOR NAMED: The Building Committee reports that now that we have the go-ahead on the building program, they have named Leo Holler as Job Supervisor. Any contractor interested in bidding on any of the various phases of construction should contact Leo at 376-3389 for information.
