"Without neglecting its commitment to children, catechesis needs to give more attention to adults than it has been accustomed to do. It should not be thought that adult catechesis is important only by reason of its relationship to the catechesis of children (i.e., adults must be catechized so that they can catechize the young) or that parent and teacher education are the whole of adult catechesis - though they are certainly forms of it - its first and essential objective - is to help adults themselves grow to maturity of faith as members of the Church and society. The GENERAL CATECHETICAL DIRECTORY views adult catechesis as the summit of the entire catechetical enterprise; while, from another perspective, it stands at the center of the Church's educational mission."

The Difference

I got up early one morning and rushed right into the day;
I had so much to accomplish that I didn't take time to pray.

Problems just tumbled about me, and heavier came each task;
"Why doesn't God help me?" I wondered, He answered:
"You didn't ask."

I wanted to see joy and beauty but the day toiled on, gray and bleak;
I wondered why God didn't show me, He said: "But you didn't seek."

I tried to come into God's presence, I used all my keys at the lock.
God gently and lovingly chided, "My child, you didn't knock."

I woke up early this morning, and paused before entering the day;
I had so much to accomplish, that I HAD to take time to pray.

A worried second grader came into the school office and asked to use the telephone to call home.

"Is there anything I can do?" the principal asked him.

"Well," sighed the boy, "I left my jacket at school yesterday and my mother told me not to come home today without it. I can't find it and I just want to ask her where she wants me go."

As was mentioned earlier, ADULT RELIGIOUS EDUCATION is being emphasized. CCD classes have been postponed. However, special workshops for parents and children will be provided for sacramental preparation.

FROM THE BISHOP'S COMMITTEE ON LITURGY: Those who receive the Host are not to dip it into the cup; Such a practice weakens the symbol of eating and drinking.

The minister should address the communicant saying: "The Blood of Christ." Communicants should respond: "Amen."

Then the minister gives the Cup to the communicant. Except for good reason, the minister should not attempt to guide the Cup, but should place it entirely into the hands of the communicant.
